Visa Sponsorship

To obtain a visa sponsorship, you'll need to meet the following requirements:

- Have a job offer from a German employer
- Meet the qualifications and experience required for the job
- Pass a language proficiency test in German (e.g., A1, A2, B1, or B2 level)
- Have a recognized university degree or equivalent qualification
- Show proof of financial resources to support yourself in Germany

Application Process

The application process typically involves the following steps:

1. Job search: Find a salesman job in Germany that offers visa sponsorship. You can search on job portals, company websites, or through recruitment agencies.
2. Job application: Apply for the job and provide the required documents, including your resume, cover letter, and language proficiency certificates.
3. Job interview: If your application is successful, you'll be invited for an interview. This may be conducted in person, via video conference, or over the phone.
4. Job offer: If you're offered the job, your employer will provide you with a job contract and support your visa application.
5. Visa application: Apply for a German work visa (Type D) at the German embassy or consulate in your home country. You'll need to provide biometric data, fingerprints, and other required documents.
